Winnipeg's Leading Indigenous
Employment and Training Agency

CHAIRPERSON'S REPORT

We are pleased to share our annual update with the community, our funders, and partners, highlighting the impactful work of Neeginan Education, Training and Employment Services, Inc. (NETES).

A highlight this year is our new name - Neeginan Education, Training and Employment Services, Inc. - which better reflects our identity and strengthens our connection to other Neeginan programs.

While our name has changed, our commitment remains the same. NETES continues to offer essential supports in employment, education, and training. Programs such as Employment Services, Aboriginal Community Campus, Neeginan Learning & Literacy Centre, and Neeginan College of Applied Technology empower clients and students to create meaningful futures for themselves and their families.

We sincerely thank our outstanding staff whose dedication and care make our services possible every day. We also appreciate our Board of Directors, the Proposal Selection Committee, and the many partners - including community organizations, government departments, post-secondary institutions, and industry collaborators - who help advance our work.

Special thanks to our primary funders - Employment and Social Development Canada and the Province of Manitoba - for their continued investment in our mission. Through these partnerships, NETES supports economic prosperity and self-sufficiency for Indigenous people in Winnipeg.

We also celebrate the achievements of our students; whose determination continues to inspire us:

- 17 Grade 12 graduates from the Aboriginal Community Campus
- 29 college graduates from Neeginan College of Applied Technology

Congratulations on your success!

Finally, we acknowledge the exceptional leadership of Co-Executive Directors Marileen Bartlett and Heather McCormick. Their vision and commitment guide the continued success of NETES.

Thank you for your ongoing support. Together, we are making a lasting impact in our community.
